FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 9, 1864.

A. H. Stephens on the Chicago Platform.

The N. Y. [illegible] of date [illegible] 29th devotes a column to the position of Mr Stephens of Georgia, advocating the plan of a convention of all the States recommended by the Chicago platform for a solution of our present national difficulties. Mr Stephens was a statesman of the old Whig school of politics, whose reputation and ability give character to any recommendation he may make, but whose antecedents do not furnish any ground for the supposition that measures proposed by him would necessarily be adopted or seconded by the Government of the Confederate States.

One of the last to forswear allegiance to the old Government, and one of the most effective in denouncing secession, his after support of the movement was not calculated to win him the entire confidence and trust of the disloyal sentiment that he so long combatted and so thoroughly exposed. His nomination and election to the Vice Presidency of the Southern Confederacy was a political move calculated to bind him firmly to its fortunes, and with him the numerous class of old Whigs so long predominant in Georgia, and, like him, opposed to disunion and civil war. They recognized him as a leader, and they also experienced the same motive of State pride that finally led him to cast his fortunes with the State that had honored him so greatly in the past.

Georgia became almost a unit for the cause with Stephens as Vice President, but his adhesion did not come soon enough to blot out the truth of history he so forcibly urged against secession, nor to annihilate that unanswerable speech before the State Convention wherein he showed the fallacy of every objection urged against the Federal Government, and painted the inevitable horrors of the civil strife they were about to inaugurate. Since then he has endeavored, with the plausibility of the politician and the sophistry of the lawyer—ever called forth the most readily when the cause is the worst—to dispel the effect produced by his patriotic appeals ere the love of Georgians for the stars upon the Nation's flag had vanished and faded from the Southern heart.

But he can never have satisfied himself, even if he succeeded in deluding his infatuated adherents, and we believe that he would be foremost of Southern statesmen to embrace any opportunity that could, viewed in any light, be conceived honorable, enable the South once more to cultivate her fields in peace, and retain her place in the Union as of old. It was Alexander H. Stephens who once said, "Pause, I entreat you, and consider for a moment what reasons you can give that will even satisfy yourselves in calmer moments—what reasons you can give to your fellow sufferers in the calamity that it will bring upon us? What reasons can you give to the nations of the earth to justify it, and to what cause or one overt act can you point on which to rest a plea of justification? What right has the North assailed? What interest of the South has been invaded? What justice has been denied? and what claim, founded in justice and right, has been withheld? Can either of you to-day name one governmental act of wrong deliberately done by the Government at Washington of which the South has cause to complain? I challenge the answer;" and the man who said that may be expected to retain enough honesty of conviction to stand ready to accept of any honorable alternative for peace and re-union.

A Convention of the States may suit Stephens, but he does not speak by the card. We have long known that he was distrusted by the fanatical leaders of the South, and have felt that the time might come for sober second thought, when minds like his, retaining some glimpse of reason, and some thought of conservatism, would assert their right to be heard, and the people, schooled by the horrors of destitution, battle fields and the desolation of civil war, might recognize that in the present conflict our Government desires only to assert the lawful jurisdiction it is bound to see enforced.

Stephens favors the proposition for the Convention of all of the States. Such a proposition could work no ill, for we know the States are loyal to a degree that would insure the preservation of National honor, if it could only insure us peace. But the Richmond Government favors no such plan. Their hopes would receive a doom of shipwreck from a Nation's voice, and the conflict must go on until the Southern mind is turned to loyalty by force of arms, or until it recognizes the necessity of a peace compatible with a Nation's honor.

SPECIFIC CONTRACT LAW.—An important decision was rendered in the Circuit Court of this county by Judge Shattuck at the late term, in the case of J. [illegible] vs. Thomas Stephens. Suit was brought on three promissory notes given by defendant last Spring, amounting, with the interest accrued, to about the sum of $1,600, the notes specifically providing for payment to be made by defendant in gold and silver coin. The defendant proved that he last August tendered plaintiff the amount of principal and interest then due in Legal Tender Notes, which were refused by the plaintiff, who brought suit for coin under the provisions of the law [illegible] the payment of specific contracts [illegible] tender was thus made. The Court decided that the Act was valid under the laws of Congress, and awarded judgment for payment in gold and silver, as contracted in the notes, holding that the tender made last August was not a [illegible] of the law in this case [illegible] the recovery at this time. This is the first judgment rendered under the new law, and the [illegible] of the Court touches several [illegible] and affords a precedent [illegible] to persons generally as well [illegible].

COLUMBIA RIVER [illegible].—The Directors of this Company desire us to say [illegible] with a few remarks concerning the [illegible] in our columns, that they [illegible] Sands and [illegible] charged that they [illegible] on the road [illegible] are continually [illegible] that allowed by the [illegible] at the former [illegible] for which they [illegible] lowed by low [illegible] been at great expense [illegible] quite recent [illegible] stantly being improved under [illegible].

LETTER [illegible] SOLDIERS' VOTES.—The following [illegible] dated New York Oct [illegible] we [illegible] paper:

[illegible] in the [illegible] could not be [illegible] over the wire.

The following [illegible] of the [illegible]

[illegible] of the Union [illegible] county [illegible] his suspicions at once while on a visit to Fort McHenry, and finally went to Ferry [illegible] to [illegible] McClellan [illegible]. Here he also learned that when Donohue [illegible] were [illegible] McClellan votes, and he was [illegible] the returns [illegible] than he thought right.

The witness [illegible] the blanks [illegible] and much other information showing a systematic fraud.

While in Ferry's office two soldiers came in, signed their [illegible] and each placed the Union electoral ticket with the Democratic ticket in envelopes, but Ferry destroyed the Union and substituted the Democratic electoral ticket.

Witness then informed the Provost Marshal of the business.

A number of letters [illegible] signed [illegible] Ferry's office were exhibited. The letters are all originals, and [illegible]. The names of Peter Cooper, H. [illegible], Sheriff [illegible] Albany [illegible] of Albany, frequently occur in the letter.

After an address by the Judge Advocate the case of Donohue was announced [illegible] and the room cleared for the Commission to deliberate [illegible] to the President for approval before being made public.

Newcomb, under oath, made a statement that he was commissioned by Governor Seymour to take votes in Baltimore and Washington. He saw Donohue, Wood and Ferry writing out powers of attorney and proxies at Ferry's office. In one of which he saw fictitious names put in. At Donohue's request he filled in the blanks of the powers of attorney and affidavit, to which Donohue had [illegible].

Donohue made a statement in which he said that what he did [illegible] hastily done, and without any knowledge or idea of the consequences. He [illegible] the Court to view his case with lenity.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S PAY.—General Spinner, United States Treasurer, having been appealed to for an official statement concerning the stories of Mr Lincoln having drawn his salary in gold and invested it in foreign securities, replies in an official statement showing:

First. That the President has neglected for long [illegible] to draw his salary [illegible] on [illegible] upwards of eleven months.

Second. That when his attention was called to the loss of interest he was thus incurring, he asked who gained by his loss, and on being told the United States, he said: "Then let it remain; the Treasury needs it more than I do."

Third. That the Treasurer was finally compelled to request the President to draw his salary, in order to adjust the annual accounts.

Fourth. That the sum thus drawn was placed in the United States five per cent temporary loan, payable, principal and interest, in greenbacks.

Fifth. That since then such portions of his salary as he did not need have been drawn for him by his friends and invested in United States gold-bearing stocks, purchased at current rates, and deposited in the vaults of the Treasury.

Sixth. That he has habitually neglected to draw the interest on these stocks, and that on one occasion, when the amount of interest payable in gold having accumulated to eight hundred dollars, the Treasurer sent it to him, he returned it, saying: "I reckon the Treasury needs it more than I do."

Seventh. That his losses from not collecting interest on his bonds have amounted to over four thousand dollars, which have been generally given to the Treasury.

A London letter to the New York Herald has the following:

The bazaar just held in Liverpool in behalf of the rebel wounded and destitute, I hear from a reliable source, will net some £15,000. May it do the sufferers much good. No doubt the money will carry joy to many distressed creatures who have been innocent victims of one of the most monstrous crimes recorded in history. * * I have just met a sea captain who comes direct from Glasgow, and he tells me there are hundreds of steamers building and fitting out in the Clyde and adjacent waters, all to run the blockade. They act as if the war was to last for the next five years. He says that every shipbuilder in the Clyde has gas lit in his yard, and, with relays of hands, work every hour of the twenty-four. He tells me of one man—the old and successful blockade runner, T. S. Begbie—who starts four new paddle steamers this week. Begbie, though a Scotchman, resides here in London. I hope your navy now is equal to the emergency, though if fast steamers are wanted they ought to buy some here in London.

SINGULAR FATALITY AMONG GENERAL SHERIDAN'S OFFICERS.—Since the campaign in the valley has been opened by General Sheridan, he has had five of his staff officers killed or wounded. A month ago Lieut. Meigs, of the Engineers, was killed by guerrillas. A short time afterwards the Chief Quartermaster and Medical Inspector of the Army were shot by the same rifles. The latter has since died. In the battle of Cedar Creek, on Tuesday last, Major Lawrence Kip, Aid-de-Camp, was slightly wounded in the arm by a piece of shell [illegible]. Major Kip had but two months before returned to the front, having just recovered from a wound received in June last. Captain McGonigle, Assistant Quartermaster, was badly wounded in the same battle. During a battle General Sheridan is always in the front line, personally superintending. A sergeant belonging to his escort was killed on Tuesday last while standing directly in the rear of the General.—[illegible]

The Connecticut Blue Laws appear to be in force in some parts of Austria. The [illegible], a Pesth paper, publishes the following official order from the Mayor of a small town to the police:

It is well known that Mr. N[illegible] has not gone to church for a long time. You are directed to go to his residence and take him there. If he should refuse, you will call two assistants and take him there by force. When in church you will remain by his side; if he pretend to be ill and fall, you will leave him on the ground; but if he make [illegible] you will administer to him [illegible] with a stick.—[illegible]

[illegible] IN ENGLAND.—On the 21st of last month a [illegible] of pigeons were flown a match from the [illegible] Stand on the [illegible] race course to Chelsea, at the west end of London, about sixty miles. The stakes were $100; the contesting birds a blue dragon and a blue Antwerp. The blue Antwerp won the match, doing the distance in one hour and ten minutes. The other pigeon was just six minutes more in arriving at Chelsea.

[illegible]—The [illegible] of October [illegible]:

[illegible]

The New [illegible] says of the entering of the cannon:

[illegible] enter the gun [illegible] Met [illegible]

The body of the man did not fill up the gun. He easily made his way to the large chamber, which was more than three times [illegible] length from the muzzle, carrying a lighted [illegible] Major R[illegible] [illegible] into the gun [illegible] received [illegible] when he came out of the gun.

THE SOUND.

The [illegible]'s reporter says:

The powder used yesterday was called Mammoth No. [illegible]. The grains are called Breckenridge [illegible] chestnut [illegible] were [illegible] The effect of the use of this powder [illegible] on the gun [illegible] strength [illegible] burning [illegible] muzzle [illegible] The powder was carried [illegible] and when they were [illegible] really coal.

THE THIRD AND LAST TRIAL.

The final trial, by far the most interesting and important of all that preceded it. Great impatience for the result was manifested by the spectators. A heavy concussion of the ground as well as the atmosphere was looked for, and there was just enough of anxiety for the safety of the giant, who was a welcome pet among those who were not familiar with it [illegible] to lend the additional charm of excitement to the interest hitherto felt. The gun had now a full charge of one hundred pounds of powder and a 1,080 pound ball. At length it was loaded and it was announced that the fuse was about to be fired. Every one rushed out of the way and made for shelter behind the redoubts of the fort. The fuse hissed and flamed, but while all waited breathless for the flash it only turned out to be a flash in the pan [illegible] failed. Another then went up who must have had great confidence in the gun, and he primed the cap and off went the big gun. The report was very little louder than the one which immediately preceded it. There was no perceptible concussion of the ground, and indeed very little of anything to lead you to think that the greatest gun now in existence had then been fired. The shot whirled through the air from the angle of twenty-five degrees, at which the gun was elevated, and after describing a beautiful arc, which was visible to the naked eye, dropped into the water about four miles off. The noise made by the collision of the ball and the air in the flight of the former was like the wail of a giant. It was something like the peculiar noise made by a hurricane passing through a ship's rigging. It was the scream of the eagle. The column of spray thrown up by the ball after its contact with the water was so great that we could not see whether it ricochetted or not, though many said it did. On examining the effect on the gun, it was discovered that this time the giant was flinching a little at the muzzle [illegible] the smoke of the burnt powder still oozing from the muzzle. He had exerted to roll himself back five feet, but in other respects was just as before.

The gun was not tested [illegible]. The range is to be tested some future day [illegible] at the proper elevation, with one hundred and twenty-five pounds of powder, it is expected to be thrown five and six miles.—N. Y. [illegible] Herald Oct [illegible].

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—The Cincinnati Commercial of the 20th Oct. [illegible] says:

An amusing affair took place on Tuesday evening at the Union meeting in Odd Fellows' Hall, Covington, Ky. While Harvey Myers was addressing the audience, an individual who seemed to be considerably happy [illegible] took a seat [illegible] the McClellan and Pendleton meeting at Coopers Hall [illegible] up Madison street he heard the cheering in Odd Fellows Hall [illegible] senator.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber at seven o'clock last evening.

Mayor Failing occupied the Chair.

The following members were present—Councilmen Cook, Frazar, Gradon, Hoffman, McCracken and Robertson.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Clerk and approved by the Council.

A petition of property owners to have the grade of Jefferson street lowered 10 inches at the intersection of Second street was received and on motion referred to the committee on streets and public property.

A petition from R. W. Rawlston, proprietor of the Bank Exchange, for license to retail liquors three months was received and on motion granted.

Councilman Hargren tendered his resignation as a member of the Board, in consequence of his absence from the city, and on motion the resignation was accepted.

The committee on ways and means reported in reference to granting licenses and collection of taxes, accompanied with an Ordinance regulating the same, on motion the report was accepted. Subsequently the Ordinance was read a first and second time and referred to the Judiciary committee.

The committee on fire and water reported by ordinance appropriating money for the purchase of a truck for Vigilance Hook and Ladder Company. Subsequently the Ordinance passed its second reading and was laid over under the rules.

The same committee recommended the purchase of a stove for Engine House No. 4. Adopted.

Mr Going, City Assessor, submitted the assessment roll for 1864 with supplementary assessments and on motion the same was accepted and referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr Dolph, City Attorney, submitted a statement of the cases recently brought in Circuit Court against the City of Portland. Judgment was rendered in favor of the city in the case of M. B. Morris. In that wherein John B. Garrison was plaintiff, judgment was obtained in his favor for the sum of $1,800, in which it is recommended to take an appeal to the Supreme Court.

On motion it was [illegible] Mr. McCracken wished to understand if [illegible] to adopt the report carried with it the directions for the necessary steps to appeal. Being decided affirmatively, report was accepted.

Numerous claims against the city were laid upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Gradon the Ordinance establishing a base line for the city surveys, was taken from the table, blanks filled, passed and authorized to be published.

Mr. McCracken read a communication from San Francisco, in relation to the purchase of a dredging machine.

On motion the Council went into an election for a member to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Hargren, which resulted in the choice of W. S. Ladd, Esq.

On motion Council adjourned.

TIME TO COMMENCE.—The great difficulty attending the improvement of our streets is that the work is generally put off until the late in the season for final completion in the fall before bad weather. Under the provisions of the new charter, the work of any street can be put back for six months, and we think that it would do well for the city authorities to commence proceedings at once, for those streets to be improved the coming season. Washington, Stark, Front and First streets are thought of—besides others—for substantial work in the Spring, but if a movement should intervene staying that work for six months in all probability they would be as bad—or worse—twelve months hence, than they are now. It is time to commence, and we hope to see the proceedings inaugurated at once, by petitions to the Council, for surely but few people wish to pass another winter for the want of a common wagon road in the city.

ARREST OF A SAN FRANCISCO THIEF.—The Dalles Mountaineer gives the particulars of the arrest of Chas. Hinns, alias Fred Zett, in that city on Tuesday night. Zett was a noted San Francisco "bird," and is arrested for stealing $2,000 from a merchant there recently, with which he had escaped on the Brother Jonathan to Oregon. Mr. D. B. Brown happened to be in this city at the time of the arrival of that steamer, and received a dispatch from the Marshal of San Francisco, informing him of particulars, and upon making application to Sheriff Stitzel it was ascertained that Zett had taken the steamer Wilson G. Hunt, for the upper country. He was followed by Mr. Brown and with the aid of officers at the Dalles arrested. The prisoner was brought to this city, and will proceed this morning via Olympia and Puget Sound to San Francisco, where Mr. Brown is directed to deliver the culprit to the authorities.

RECRUITING.—Every other county in the State has nearly or quite furnished their quota of troops under the late call of the Governor but Multnomah. We shall not be positive that no action will be taken at the present session of the Board of County Commissioners to make appropriation for the encouragement of enlistments, but it seems as though there was some doubt about it. If our wealth, our population and our interests are not of sufficient importance to render a draft a disgrace to our county, it comes pretty near it to say the least, and we hope the people will wake up and take an interest in the matter, call a meeting to adopt some plan that will put it out of the way by increasing—or rather awaken the interest for recruiting. The business is actually dragging for want of encouragement. Who will move in the matter to-day?

A SURPRISE PARTY.—Day before yesterday the quiet domestic circle of Rev. P. S. Caffrey, in this city, was considerably disturbed, by the abrupt incursions of a drunken fellow, by the name of Mike Griffin. He applied at the back door of the Rev. gentleman's residence for admission, which was refused him, and he smashed the door in. The affair created great consternation among the female portion of the house, some visitors happening to be present, the alarm extending to the business part of the city. Marshal Hoyt was apprised of the difficulty and proceeded to arrest the intruder, and took him up.

PORTLAND R. A. C. No. 3.—At a stated convocation of Portland R. A. C. No. 3, held Thursday evening, Dec. 8, 1864, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: C. H. Lewis, H. P.; John H. Couch, K.; R. R. Thompson, S.; J. W. Tracy, C. H.; P. C. Schuyler, Jr., P. S.; A. B. Richardson, R. A. C.; Mark A. King, G. M. 3d V.; W. S. Caldwell, G. M. 2d V.; A. G. Walling, G. M. 1st V.; J. C. Ainsworth, Treasurer; Lemuel F. Goodwin, Secretary; Henry Saker, Sentinel.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday, the following cases were disposed of: Michael Griffin for violent riotous and disorderly conduct was fined $10 and costs; paid. The same individual for resisting the officer making arrest was fined $10 and costs. The fine paid. William Chamberlin was committed to jail for three days. George Sykes was fined $5 and cost which he paid and departed in peace.

COMPLIMENTARY BENEFIT.—We learn that there is a movement on foot to tender a complimentary benefit to Mr. Frank Hussey, of the Variety Troupe, on some evening during the coming week. We hope the effort will prove successful, and have no doubt but it will, as Frank has many friends and admirers in Portland who recognize in him a star in his profession and a jolly good fellow withal.

MR. HARGREN, of the Third Ward, having resigned his position as a member of the City Council, we congratulate our citizens upon the selection last evening of Mr. W. S. Ladd to fill the vacancy. Mr. Hargren retires with the clear consciousness of having performed his duty to the city without fear or favor.

THE PROPELLER CALLIO.—The Callio cast loose yesterday, and with a full head of steam, started across and up the river with considerable velocity. Her model is after the clipper style of ship architecture, and the new machinery make her a very fast boat. Although a small craft the Callio is capable of doing signal service in supplying a small local trade.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.—We waited until twelve o'clock last night, hoping for news by the wires. There is a large amount on the way, but it is to be repeated, as the line works very hard, and we are disappointed in not receiving it as we anticipated.

POTOSI.—The Potosi Gold and Silver Mining Company, organized in this city a few days since, and elected as Directors, H. H. Northup, [illegible] J. M. Burke, [illegible] B. Pease, [illegible] Pettingill, and Owsley. [illegible] Kirkpatrick & Co., who have been on [illegible] the most industrious prospectors of [illegible] country.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The auction rooms of Mr. A. B. Richardson were undergoing a change for the better, and [illegible] yesterday. About five tons of toys will be opened soon at his place, for inspection and sale during next week.

SINCE DEAD.—The man who fell through the skylight at the Temperance House a few days since, expired last evening. We learn that his name was Hofmeister, a soldier.

HON. GEO. H. WILLIAMS.—Our Senator elect, Hon. Geo. H. Williams, will leave for Washington City, D. C., on or about the [illegible].

CADET ENGINEERS IN THE NAVY.—The Navy Department has issued regulations under which cadet engineers for the navy may be appointed. The number of these cadets is limited by law to 50. Each application must be made to the Secretary of the Navy. The candidate must be under 18 years of age, furnish evidence that he possesses a good character and mechanical aptitude, and that he has been employed two years in the construction of steam machinery. Before appointment he must be examined as to mental qualifications and physical fitness. The course of study will comprise two academic years.

A Greenback Case!

HAVING BEEN COMPELLED TO ACCEPT OF Legal Tender Notes at par since the [illegible]th day of December, 1862, for the rent of my handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public at large, that

Jacob Mayer

Leased the building of me on the 17th day of February, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in use, and it was understood the terms were CASH. Since the date above stated I have received the depreciated currency regularly, under protest, for the rent of the

CITY OF PARIS STORE,

Making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in COIN, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself. By LEGAL SWINDLING. Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.

NEWELL'S

PULMONARY SYRUP

HAS CURED THOUSANDS!

And it will Cure You!

A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves [illegible] there is Always reason to fear the consequences,

as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption.—[Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAT COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supercede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure, but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come had it not been for a kind, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance."

He Had a Cold!

Which by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that prescription was not

NEWELL'S

SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

ADAH ISAACS MENKEN AS MAZEPPA IN LONDON.—Miss Menken plays the game with a dummy, and fairly as [illegible] height. The [illegible] the part [illegible] spirit [illegible] effect of her achievement [illegible] said about horse [illegible] as ticklish to [illegible] can hardly refer to [illegible] body, and whether the [illegible] prudery [illegible] same. However [illegible] scanty attire [illegible] Menken has [illegible] merciful than [illegible] young Tartar. Her dress [illegible] Queen Elizabeth would have [illegible] maids of honor, but certainly [illegible] whit more object [illegible] Highland boys and [illegible] now accepted as matters of course.—[illegible] Oct 7th.

The glories of Astley's have been at length revived and [illegible] Miss Adah Isaacs Menken, the most daring actress [illegible] this or any other [illegible] appears in the character [illegible] a wild horse. The lady [illegible] wife of Heenan, the pugilist, is a fine woman on a large scale, and her [illegible] attracts immense audiences who [illegible] the sensation drama. The horse which she rides is however [illegible] but the quadruped described by Lord Byron, as it has a decided objection to gallop, and sometimes makes a dead halt at the very time it ought to make a jump over a dreadful ravine or terrible precipice.—[illegible]

The revival of the popular spectacle of Mazeppa, which took place at the theatre on Monday evening under the management of [illegible] Smith, was attended with such unequivocal success that the performance is likely to improve the fortunes of the establishment. The immediate object of the reproduction of this long-remembered piece, was to afford the public an opportunity of witnessing another "sensation" in the shape of a lady playing the part of Mazeppa and performing those feats of agility and prowess which have heretofore been accomplished not by Mazeppa himself but "by deputy." The name of the lady is Adah Isaacs Menken and she appears to be gifted with all those qualities which tend to make a graceful and impassioned actress, where physical rather more than mental force is essentially required. She went through the entire representation with a strength of nerve and an amount of masculine vigor and intensity which certainly startled the spectators, and when lashed to the back of the wild horse, she performed the perilous journey over the rocks, they rewarded her with the most vociferous tokens of their entire satisfaction and approval. As regards the costume worn by the lady, it may be right to say, in the face of the pictures which have been exhibited of her throughout the metropolis for some time past, that although it is by no means according to the most approved laws which govern the fashions even of the stage, it is not so objectionable to the eye of delicacy as the numerous visitors to the theatre have been led to anticipate. The piece is admirably mounted and the numerous well trained horses seemed so perfectly at home in their old quarters that the entire spectacle "went off" in a manner which must be considered fully worthy of the bygone days of Astley's.—London [illegible]

TWO INCIDENTS AT ATLANTA.—A repentant rebel Captain, who came into the Union lines recently, says that when the morning of the 28th of August was ushered in and the besieging armies reported retreating across the Chattahoochie there was a grand gala day in Atlanta. Hood was in ecstacies and ordered his cavalry in pursuit. They attacked the 20th corps at the old Chattahoochie bridge near Vining's Station, supposing that it was the rear guard covering Sherman's retreat. The rebel hosts had an old fashioned jubilee, cheer upon cheer rang from their lines. The people assembled at the different chapels and poured out their souls in thanksgiving and prayer to God for so unexpected a delivery from the enemy. Parties, songs, dances, marriages, handshakings, and one general conflagration of triumphant joy revived and pervaded the whole city, until the roar of one hundred guns shelling the Macon road, near Jonesboro, told them how sadly they had been deceived.

But on the night of the 1st of September there was a panic in Atlanta as immeasurable as indescribable. There was hurrying to and fro, the busy tramp of a defeated host, the blanched cheeks of a young chieftain conscious of having been out generalled, and the deep wild saddened looks of trembling citizens beholding their city and homes thrown open to the eager enemy. There were strange bonfires here, there and everywhere in the city, followed by explosions, concussions and earthquakes. It was a night of terror and desolation.

THE AMERICANS AHEAD PHYSICALLY.—A surgeon in New York city examined 8,700 recruits for the army, of whom 4,538 were Americans, 1,694 Irish, 1,453 Germans, 315 English and Scotch, 135 French and 545 belonging to twenty-six other nations. He made a strict examination, to determine whether there was any foundation for the frequent affirmation of the English journals, that the physical man in America was deteriorating. The Americans of New York city were of course not above the average of Americans, physically, yet his examination puts them ahead. In stature the American born ranked the highest, the English next, the Germans next, and the French last. In regard to their physical conformation, he divided the recruits into four classes, and found the Americans to possess the highest rate of prime physique. Of American recruits, 47.5 per cent. had a prime physique, the Germans, 40.75 per cent, and the Irish 35 per cent. He arrived at the conclusion that no race can show a larger proportion of osseous and muscular development, and he ascribes it not to race but to the diffused blessings of meat and drink.

ENGLISH OPINION OF AMERICAN EXTRAVAGANCE.—In one of the recent letters of George Augustus Sala, a first class English writer now on a tour through America, remarking upon the love of dress to which American ladies are given, he says: "I have heard of an Earl's daughter—to be sure she was one of seven—who was allowed by her noble papa but forty pounds a year for her toilette and she was passing rich even at that. Forty pounds! In greenback currency even and with gold at 180, it would not suffice a New York belle for a single week's dressing at Saratoga Springs." Why, Mr. Sala, that sum's [illegible] barely suffices to cover the expenses of a single dress intended for a devotee of fashion—no sooner worn a few times and it is cast aside as unfit to wear [illegible] superseded by [illegible] nothing equally outre. Sala is considered the equal of Dickens, but always writes in a friendly and kindly spirit toward this country and [illegible] In this respect he sets a noble example to most English egotists.—[illegible]

A PARROT TELLING HIS MISTRESS WHO HAD ROBBED HER.—During the absence of the landlady of a public house in [illegible] the premises were broken into and [illegible] and a silver watch stolen therefrom. On the mistress's return [illegible] entering the house a favorite parrot in her room sang out, "[illegible] have left the house. Brook has been with another rogue and stolen all the money." On this evidence the individual designated was arrested and the watch and money found upon him.

The New Albany [illegible] understands that the Government will take all the hogs in Kentucky, allowing the ruling market rate for them at the time of delivery. The Government demand is likely to be a great deal heavier than it was last year.

When Hood was nearing [illegible] General Schofield received a dispatch from Sherman [illegible] that the way to East Tennessee [illegible] the former. The dispatch [illegible] but the [illegible] proffer was disregarded.

"Ma, why is a postage stamp like a bad scholar?" "I can't tell, my son; why is it?" "Because it gets licked and put in the corner."
